About Sentronex

Sentronex provides niche IT services for London-based financial institutions. Our rapid growth since launching in 2005 is down to a winning combination of expert technical knowledge alongside industry experience. Sentronex looks after an impressive range of City-based clients, from Hedge Funds and Asset Managers to larger Brokers and Investment Banks.

We focus on providing the best of the following services: Disaster Recovery, IT Support, Hosting, IT Consultancy and Cloud Computing. Sentronex understands that City workers are required to perform under pressure and our responsive team of engineers are suitably trained to react quickly and efficiently.

You will have access to the best technical staff. Our senior consultants have IT experience from within the financial sector, making their advice invaluable both in providing day-to-day technical support but also in wider consultation on IT strategies.

SENTROCONSULT

Your industry is extremely complex – we understand this. By providing cutting edge technology solutions to brokers, hedge funds, financial boutiques and the trading arms of global institutions we can better support your critical operations. We offer a wide range of consultancy services, from Business Continuity Plan writing to the development of a comprehensive IT strategy, or 'Road Map', which we can then implement on a project basis according to your needs and budget.

SENTROCLOUD

Like you, we pride ourselves on being at the forefront of Information Technology services. Managed and hosted in our secure data centre, our virtualised environment provides SMEs and newly regulated start-ups with a cost-effective, scalable solution. A SentroCloud service incurs minimal setup costs and will provide your business with true flexibility and scalability, where new applications and users can be implemented easily and quickly.

SENTROHOST

The Sentronex Data Centre is situated 10 kilometres from the City of London, in Romford; a location that is easily accessible and fulfils FSA guidelines for your secondary servers. Data centre and recovery infrastructures are served by dual or multiple supplies for internet connectivity and power, so if in the event that one fails, the others will continue operating.

"Sentronex are different in three vital respects; firstly, as an organisation they are extremely responsive and proactive. Secondly, their staff have a superb breadth and depth of technical knowledge. Thirdly, they are prepared to provide a service to small companies like ours in a way where both the quality of service and the economics work for both parties."
